In Celebration of Darby & Joan - Simon Stoker

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of Winster's Darby & Joan the new video "Variations" will be shown at their dinner on 20th May. Filmed throughout 2005 "Variations" records a number of events from Jan 1st to Dec 31st, including Winster's summer festivities. A central section is 'Past Times' comparing historical pictures of village properties (and their owners) with the present day.

The presentation is set to Elgar's "Enigma Variations" which inspired the project. A bonus section on the DVD is film of the 1977 Jubilee Celebrations, in which many well known Winster faces can be seen.

Following its presentation to the Darby & Joan evening, copies (on DVD only) will be available for sale at £10.00 each. Funds raised will be shared between St John the Baptist Church and Darby & Joan, both worthwhile causes. Carolyn at the Post Office has agreed to collect orders, or copies can be obtained from Simon Stoker on 650403.

Due to complex licensing and copyright restrictions only 100 copies of this DVD will be available for sale.

Get yours now to avoid disappointment.

Notice of the Annual General Meeting of the Winster on Thursday 22nd June 2006 at 8.00 pm.

Agenda: Chairman's Report

Election of Officers

David Mitchell, Company Secretary. Thurs 18th May 2006.

All residents of Winster are entitled to attend and

District Councillor for Winster John Moseley

On 20th April I was elected as the new Councillor for the Winster and South Darley ward on Derbyshire Dales District Council. I would obviously like to thank those electors who supported me but I would also like to thank all that cast their vote and helped to boost the turnout in the ward to 54%. It was good to see so many voting and taking a real interest in the by-election. Finally can I thank my fellow candidates, George Edwards and Colin Swindell, for their part in the contest.

It is my aim to work for all electors in the ward, of whatever political persuasion, and they can contact me by phone on 01629 650760 or at Ivy House Farm, Ivy Lane, Elton, DE4 2BX.

Finally, as I become more settled in my new role I will endeavour to keep you all informed of current issues in our ward and wider areas of the councils work through regular contributions to this publication.

Election Results

The by-election was caused by the sitting Lib Dem Councillor, Ray Dring being required to resign because of his position with the Derbyshire Fire Service.

The turnout in the by-election increased from 44% in the 2003 election to 54%. The result was as follows:

Conservatives (Moseley)	316 (40.8%)
Lib Dems (Edwards)	281 (36.2%)
Labour (Swindell)	178 (23.0%)

Majority 35
Electorate in 2006 = 1430

Weight Limits on East and West Bank

John Geddes

If you are unhappy at the thought of heavier lorries on East Bank and West Bank, please read this item – a letter from you could make all the difference!

At the Annual Parish Meeting, the Parish Council reported that the absence of letters from the public is undermining their attempts to preserve (and make enforceable) the current 3-tonne weight limits. The current signs specify a 3-tonne limit on both roads, but the legal basis for this restriction is in question. The County Council think a new 7.5-tonne limit would be adequate.

The Parish Council have appealed against this proposal, and have managed to keep the current signs in position whilst the matter is decided.

If you want to keep the current 3-tonne limit on vehicles driving up and down the banks (especially if you live on East Bank or West Bank, but other residents are quite free to express a view as well), then please write URGENTLY to:

Simon Tranter
North West Traffic and Safety Manager
Derbyshire County Council
County Hall
Matlock
DE4 3AG
(or email to simon.tranter@derbyshire.gov.uk)

Ideally, please also send a copy your letter to our DCC Councillor, Ray Caswell - you can send the copy to him at County Hall in the same envelope, or email him at ray.caswell@derbyshire.gov.uk..

See www.winster.org. for suggestions for points to include.

Win Chick Plain Trousers

What's all this? I hear you say.

It's all too confusing, nothing to do with me.

Why should I be interested in this, what does it mean, what does it do for ME?

It's not relevant to ME.

These are all phrases which some people may associate with Winster Parish Council (as well as the anagram in the heading - by the way, I got the anagram from the Internet!) but it is important to everyone who lives in the Parish.

The Parish Council is your first level of contact with local government and can help with problems you are having in the village. Recent examples of where the Parish Council has supported residents and helped to get results are:

Weight limits on East Bank and West Bank - whilst nothing can be done to stop the 3 tonne limit being removed as it is no longer a statutory weight limit, the Parish Council has put pressure on the County Council to come up with an alternative to help prevent large lorries using these two roads as a short cut. So far, the County Council has agreed to consider the alternatives, such as "unsuitable for heavy vehicle" signs.

Broken and electrified stiles - several stiles have been repaired following reports from residents to the Parish Council, including one which gave dogs electric shocks before they even set foot on the stile, causing them to jump into the busy road. A new gate has been installed at this site by the Peak Park.

Broken street light - when the street light on The Angel had to be removed because the bracket was broken, the County Council was reluctant to negotiate with the Peak Park over a Replacement (being a listed building, the Peak Park took an interest in the type of light to be put on the Angel.) This is a very dark area and a difficult junction which really does need to be lit. The Parish Council put pressure on the County Council and Peak Park to resolve this and a new lamp standard was installed after several months of negotiations and darkness.

This is only a sample of things which affect most of us which the Parish Council has taken up on behalf of residents. We can only help if we know of the issues which are affecting you, so please do contact me if you think the Parish Council can help.

The Parish Council meets on the first Monday in each month, unless it is a Bank Holiday when the meeting is a week later. There is a public open session at the beginning of each meeting and the agenda is on the notice board at least three days before the meeting. You may like to come along to the meetings and/or consider standing for election in May 2007. Past minutes can be seen by following the links under the information heading on the Winster website (www.winster.org) - these will give you an idea of the range of topics under discussion.

If you would like to raise something, please e-mail or write to me. All correspondence is circulated to the Parish Councillors about 10 days before the meetings, so I do need your letters in good time to go before the next meeting. It may take a little time for any results, but I will let you know what's happening.

Tapestry Café Betty Dawes

May 1, in the Village Mag, thank everyone who supported the coffee morning at the Tapestry Cafe. In addition to the usual refreshments we sold bric-a-brac. We sent £125 to the appeal which made up the shortfall on the most recent load sent to the hospital at Tarnaveni in Romania. The cost of the delivery was £1,600. All the money was raised by charity events in different parts of the country. The contribution from Winster people was much appreciated.
Thank you, Betty Dawes

This Job Stinks Veronica Kemble

How does this job description sound?

Working outside in the fresh air. Duties include taking dog mess and squashing it and then throwing it with force all over yourself.

Although this isn't actually in our Parish Warden's job description, it is what happens when he strims the Churchyard. The situation is now so bad that we have had to supply him with disposable overalls.

Please don't let your dogs foul in the Churchyard, Woodhouse Lane recreation ground, the footways and other public areas of the village - and if they do please clean up after them and put the waste in one of the dog bins or take it home with you.

Fern's letter—The Twinning Visit to Italy

As the time gets nearer for the visit by the Winster children to Monterubbiano, the excitement is mounting. This week letters have been written to the e-mail friends and here is Fern's.

Dear Letizia,

I hope you are well. Have you been getting a lot of sun? I expect it will be boiling when I come. I hope you got my e-mail at your computer. I bet I will see lots of cheese when I come and I don't like it!

I think your house will have lots of windows to keep you cool, and I think it will be white on the outside. Is your house big? I've heard that I'm staying at your house with Evie. I'm glad I'm staying at your house with my friend Evie. We will have fun. I think there will be tall, fancy buildings in Monterubbiano.

Did you know our dog Ellie might be pregnant? We won't know for two weeks, but if she is I will take pictures of the puppies for you.

I'm looking forward to coming to Monterubbiano!

Love Fern

Green Corner goes PEE

Jo Ferguson

The Independent carried an article on 2 May about Ken Livingstone, Mayor of London, staunchly advocating not flushing the loo after what the Independent delicately called urinating. No one in Mr L's household for the last 15 months has apparently flushed the toilet after urinating, and there has been surprisingly little ill effect.

Now before you all start reeling back in horror, let me tell you a little secret. In our household, we've been following the "If it's yellow, let it mellow: if it's brown, flush it down" principle for a lot longer than Mr L. So far as I can tell, there's been no ill effects. That's right: no smells, no flies, no health problems. In fact, as our water supply is metered, there's been a doubly good effect both on our water bill and on the environment. The water used to swill our waste away goes through exactly the same expensive purification processes that make our water fit to drink (and who pays for that? You got it: we do). So suppress those shudders and try following the "If it's yellow, let it mellow" adage. Here are some other watersaving tips:

- * Divert water from the roof or the shower into a rain harvester (like a water butt) and use it to flush the lavatory.
- * Install a "Hippo" (many water companies supply these free of charge) in the loo to reduce the amount of water in each flush. A brick or plastic bottle will also serve this purpose.
- * Don't leave taps running while brushing teeth or shaving.
- * Wash vegetables in a bowl and save the run-off to water plants. Water that contains washing-up liquid can kill aphids on roses.
- * If your hot water tap takes forever to run hot, capture the water in a container and use it to water the plants
- * Chill a bottle filled with tap water in the fridge - this saves running the tap until the water is cold.

* Wait until you have a full load before using a washing machine or dishwasher. Use the minimum amount of water in kettles and saucepans.

* replace faulty washers to avoid leaking taps and avoid burst pipes by installing adequate insulation.

And finally:

Take one large handful of common cleavers (the sticky sprawling plant rampant at the moment that sticks to clothing) - boil it up in a litre of water and simmer for 15 minutes. Cool and strain. The liquid apparently makes a great underarm deodorant. I'm trying it out so you'll have to let me know if it works!

Shoulder of Mutton Jean Skyrme

In an attempt to discover the history of the (old) Shoulder of Mutton, I realise that the lives of its many licensees are the major elements in its 'life'. Many names are 'lost in the mist of time', but I am hoping that someone will know of Joseph Taylor 1768 to 1836. He was the landlord from 1806-35 and was probably succeeded by his wife Sarah. He is buried in the churchyard but I have no record for Sarah. I hope that their long tenancy of a thriving inn has left a legacy that can be traced. Are there members of the Taylor family who might be connect to Jo?

I would be pleased to learn of any anecdotes or information relating to our house.

Please contact me on 650778 if you can help.

Quick tip

Lemon Juice: Use as a replacement for salt when cooking. It brings out the flavour of ingredients & adds a wonderful 'zingy' taste. Lemons are available at Winster Shop.

Village shop News David Mitchell

Opening Hours. From May 25th we will open later in the evenings at weekends. New times are Mon – Wed 8 am to 7 pm, Thurs – Sat 8 am to 8 pm and Sunday 8.00 am to 7.00 pm.

Eggs. Lots of you are asking us for free range eggs and we may have found a local supplier who can provide up to 20 dozen free range eggs a week and meet the necessary legislation for selling from our shop. But if you know of another suitable supplier please let us have the name and telephone number.

Ready made meals. A reminder that we stock Maycocks excellent range of ready made meals in our freezer. They are not easy to find so if you haven't tried them yet please do, they are very good.

Bread. Last month the Mag carried an article from a reader with a disparaging view of Hayes bread which angered a number of our customers. On behalf of our customers and our supplier can I say this was not our view. Hayes bread always outsold Howards by a long way, we are very happy with Hayes bread and we are working with Mr Hayes to extend the range of bread we offer.

Volunteers. To support our regular staff there are one or two times when volunteers can be really useful. Particular times are Thursday mornings when most of our deliveries arrive and Sunday mornings to shelf fill when only one member of staff is on duty. Saturday evening 5 – 8 is also difficult. Thanks to those of you who have helped here in recent weeks. Thanks also to Judy Hinsliff who is 'recycling' our cardboard and who I am sure would like someone else to do the occasional run. If you are interested in giving us a hand some weeks on these occasions do please let us know.

Comments. Thank you for your comments in our book which we try to satisfy. Keep them coming.

Jammy Fundraising

Many of you know me through the Parish Council or School, but in my spare time I also have a passion for making jam, marmalade, chutney, bread, cakes etc some of which I sell.

For the next 15 months or so, I will be actively fundraising on behalf of Breaks4Kids ending in August/September 2007 with a trek in Iceland from the active Mt Hekla, south through the mountains and the permanent ice caps. This will be a challenging trek and I aim to raise at least £2,500 - every penny will go to the charity as I am paying for all my travel and accommodation costs.

Imagine if your child's class was going on a residential trip but you couldn't afford the cost - how do you tell your child that he or she cannot go? Every year thousands of groups request help from Breaks4Kids so that children who cannot afford to join their friends on residential trips can go along.

Breaks4Kids YHA's in-house charity, can provide grants to cover up to 50% of the cost of food and accommodation on what, for many, is their first trip away from home - this could be the difference between a wonderful experience with friends or the stigma of being left behind.

This is where I would like your help! I am starting my fundraising with a stall at Carnival selling homemade items, so come and see what's on offer. If you've any spare vegetable plants I could sell that would be great too.

Of course, making jams costs money, and the less I have to spend on ingredients, the more money can go to Breaks4Kids. If you have a glut of fruit or vegetables, including green tomatoes, later in the year and you feel able to let me take them off your hands, please let me know - I'm happy to pick the fruit too!

For more information, donations, contributions and fundraising suggestions please contact Veronica Kemble on 650530 or veronicawinster@aol.com.

Weather Forecasts John Geddes

If you are looking for a weather forecast that is a bit more precise than you can get from TV or radio, the Internet has useful weather resources.

The BBC offer daily forecasts for Bakewell, Matlock and Ashbourne (which can be surprisingly different), and three-hourly forecasts for Buxton, Sheffield and Derby.

More conveniently, Metcheck.com offer very comprehensive forecasts for the "DE4" area: 3-hourly for the current day and each of the following 7 days - and morning/afternoon/evening forecasts for days 8-14. They even offer a "which is the best day for a barbecue?" forecast. I've only just discovered them, so cannot vouch for their accuracy, but they look well worth a try.

Links to these, and a variety of other weather services, are on the Weather Forecasts page of the Winster website - www.winster.org

John Curate's letter

Saturday 24th June is the Birth Day of Saint John the Baptist, our Patron Saint, which means one thing for us all. The beginning of 'Wakes Week' the celebrations begin on 25th June normally with the enthroning and crowning of the Queen and the procession to the Church accompanied by the Ashbourne Brass Band.

I have been asked to say a few words by way of welcome to the events of Wakes Week this year. Unfortunately the enthronement and the crowing of the Winstar Wakes Queen has had to be put off until the following week as Isabelle (Pepa) is away in France on 25th June. Just as long as everyone understands I am not standing in for the Queen. Although I have just heard that Bryony, the Princess, is to be presented with a coronet for which I am grateful.

The Wakes are a time for thanking God for our Church of St. John and we do that by holding a fair and making merry. It is a tradition which goes way back into medieval times. It is a time for celebration, for joy, laughter and happiness. A time for coming together as a community. A time to join in the fun and enjoy ourselves.

Let's make this Wakes Week the best ever and truly enjoy ourselves.

Rearrange these nine groups of letters to make nine vegetables...
BUT...each group contains one extra letter to confuse you.

Find the vegetables, then use the extra letter to make a tenth one.
